FOSTERING INDEPENDENCE

Hear Kelly Raclin Miller, MA, share her insight and experience on fostering independence in neurodivergent children. Kelly's direct and often humorous approach covers knowing your child's abilities, improving their executive functioning skills and working collaboratively with your child's teachers. Her presentation includes how-to guidance for chores and tasks at home, money strategies, safety in the community and online, and employment with an emphasis on planning for the future.

Kelly Raclin Miller, MA, is an educational and therapeutic consultant with Wolf Strategic Advice, LLC. With a master's degree in child and family psychology, Kelly is an autism spectrum disorder and learning disabilities sage and specializes in traditional boarding schools and post-secondary placements for students who want or need a different path.
